

Political Gossip.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Official Washington is very much interested in the campaign, and the doubt that exists as to which party will be successful at the coming election is sufficient to stimulate even the old barons who have remained in office for years and years, no matter which party was on top. Of course, all the higher officials in the departments are intensely interested in Republican success. Not only members of the Cabinet and assistants to heads of the departments, but all bureau chiefs and a great many other officials, whose department life depends on the success of Mr. Roosevelt, are already figuring out a Republican victory. While a large share of the department clerks are under the protection of the civil service, most of them were appointed under Republican administrations, and as a consequence are largely Republicans, although they have remained in office so long that they are non-partisans. There is another class that changes its politics as soon as an election occurs. There are men holding office today who were known to be Republicans up to the time Blaine was defeated in 1884, and who were Democrats until Harrison beat Cleveland in 1888; were Democrats again from November, 1892, until McKinley was elected, since which time they have been ardent and consistent Republicans. They did not join during the campaign four years ago, because it seemed a foregone conclusion that McKinley would defeat Bryan. This class of patriots are a little uneasy now, and the possibility of Parker's election might make trouble for them. But they will have ample time between the first week in November and the inauguration to show their Democracy should McKinley be elected, and they will be consistent to their past records, and shift as quickly as it is known that a Democrat is to occupy the White House.

Outside of official Washington the parties are about evenly balanced, and this, like any other community, has partisans on each side who take an active interest in the elections. Washington being the political center and the home of the President, it is probable that there is a certain amount of social and intellectual interest in politics that is not exhibited elsewhere. The issues of the campaign cannot be very well figured out. The first draft of the Democratic tariff plank was rather mild, but Bryan forced in the "protection-is-robbery" phrase, which makes the issue more distinct. There were Republicans at Chicago who wanted to declare for immediate revision, and the tariff plank promises reduction when conditions make it necessary. Perhaps there can be a free trade and protection issue raised between the two parties, but it is doubtful. Other portions of the platforms of the two parties do not form the basis of very essential issues in the campaign, and attention is given to the question of whether the people want Republican rule or Democratic rule. Already the personality of the two candidates is, in a way, eliminated, for nothing can be said against either of them. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt's personality cannot be rubbed out so easily, but it is merely his mannerisms and methods and not his character or his honesty that can be impeached. The Democrats, on the other hand, which certain Democrats have denominated "Rooseveltism" has already been discussed in the party, by the leaders in Congress, by the Republican majority in both Houses, and by the men who made the nomination at Chicago, and consequently that feature is a part of the Republican campaign and cannot be made a personal issue.

Things are actually doing in the way of constructing a canal, for the entire Panama Canal commission, its permanent officials and attaches, are about, bound for the isthmus, and before they return it is expected that a great deal will be done in the direction of starting along the canal work. Of course, considerable has been done already, but it is the intention of the commission while it is at Panama, this time to inaugurate a system of government, which is necessary before much more can be done. There was time when it was thought that nearly all of the Panama Canal commission's work could be done from Washington, but it now looks as if the work would have to be on the ground, where they can transact the business required of them. It is expected that some place in the mountains or on the highlands will be found for the commission, or such members of it as must stay in Panama during the heated term. Secretary of the Interior.

"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years, and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moore of Grand, Decatur Co., Mont. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that I was almost impossible. I had two operations performed by the best surgeons of the West, but they did not get relief. I then, against my doctor's strict orders, commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Advertiser, and followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser. I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 100 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

eral men who have been on the isthmus say that healthy places can be found within working distance of the canal ship, and that some such place will be the ideal residence of the commission most of the time.

The coming army maneuvers in Virginia on the old battlefields of the Civil war probably will attract a great deal of attention, and many citizens of Washington and of the States adjoining will visit the camp while they are in the neighborhood. It is believed that large delegations from States which send troops to the maneuvers will be in attendance and arrangements will be perfected for their entertainment. The ground is close enough to Washington so that persons may go out in the morning on special trains and return in the evening, but the probabilities are that those who come from a distance will prefer to remain on the ground and get a glimpse of soldier life. There are not many living now who know much about actual soldiering. They won't find very much of it in the maneuvers that will be conducted under Gen. Corbin, but still there will be the "pomp and panoply" of war, even if it is mostly sham.

Way up in the North Carolina mountains, 2000 feet above sea level, is Lake Toxaway. This beautiful sheet of water is an example of how man can improve nature's handiwork when he has got money enough to do it. A year ago what is now Lake Toxaway was a deep gorge in the mountains, heavily timbered and of little or no use to mankind. The ground was purchased by a syndicate of capitalists and engineers made a careful survey and found that by building a large dam about forty-eight feet high, between two mountains, the stream known as Toxaway creek might become Lake Toxaway, and this has been done. A lake three miles long and in places a mile wide, with many curves and inlets in and about the mountains, making in all sixteen miles of shore line, has been erected. The location is south of Asheville and in the center of what is called the "Sapphire Country." Asheville is in the center of the "Land of the Sky," as the North Carolinians, in their poetic way of naming the different sections of their State, have styled that region. Lake Toxaway is at the base of Toxaway mountain, and a large and elegant hotel called Toxaway Inn has been erected on its shores. In the first instance the idea of the project was to have a summer resort for their own, but soon the commercial idea crept in, and now the Southern railway is pushing the "sapphire country" and Lake Toxaway along with Asheville and the "hot air" as a part of its tourist attraction country in the South, which is reached by that line. A number of persons who have visited the lake are wondering what the result will be in this making such a radical change in nature.

Assistant Secretary Oliver of the War department once crossed the Panama canal strip on his way to California. At that time he was an acting quartermaster in the army, and went to the Pacific coast under orders relating to the construction of the Central Pacific railroad. Mr. Oliver says that when he crossed the isthmus it was the only pleasant way of reaching the Pacific coast. The immigrant team had given way to the pony express and stage coach, but that meant long rides across the desert and mountains of the Rocky Mountain region. The railroad was then operated in first-class shape, and the passenger steamers were all that could be desired, especially on the Pacific coast. Mr. Oliver was present at the driving of the last spike that connected the Union and Central Pacific railroads. He says there was a great effort made by both companies to build as fast as possible because the further they built the more land they acquired. On the day that the Central Pacific was then operated in first-class shape, and the passenger steamers were all that could be desired, especially on the Pacific coast. The old-time rush which took place every time the Government opened up to settlement a large tract of Indian lands is a thing of the past. Nowadays a new system is in vogue which does away with the fatalities that characterized former openings, and furthermore avoids confusion as to titles and resulting litigation. The new "lottery" system, as it is popularly known, was devised by William A. Richards, Commissioner of the General Land Office, and was tried as an experiment when the Kiowa-Comanche-Apache-Wichita lands in Oklahoma were opened to entry two years ago. So successful was the experiment that the department promptly adopted the plan, and is this year applying it to lands in Minnesota, Dakota and Montana. Under the lottery system the lands to be opened are surveyed, laid off in tracts of 160 acres each and maps made of the entire area. At a given time the land offices nearest the lands open registration books and, on the day set for the opening, a parcel of the Indian land is drawn. Heed not longer there for weeks, as was the custom in the rush days, but can return to his home and await the result of the drawing.

On the day fixed, the names of all persons registered are placed in a large box, thoroughly mixed, and are then drawn out, one at a time. The first man whose name is drawn is permitted to make the first selection from among all the tracts offered; the second man makes second choice, and so on until all the lands are gone. It has been the rule in past drawings that there were infinitely more applicants than there were tracts; in Oklahoma there were thirteen prospective entrants for every tract opened. Consequently thousands who drew no land, but in Minnesota this year, there are upward of twenty-five prospective entrants for every tract, and there will be many more thousands disappointed. There will, however, be perfect order in parceling out these lands, there will be no question as to any man's title to his land, and what is equally satisfactory to the department, no man will secure more than a single 160-acre tract, and practically all the lands will fall into the hands of actual settlers. There is no chance for speculators under the Richards' lottery plan.

Service of Song and Story.
The Sunday evening services at Westminster church, Fourth West, between First and Second South, have been very well attended during the last four Sunday evenings, while the series of addresses on "Workingmen's Problems" was being given by the pastor, Rev. John Richardson.

No small part of the popularity of these services was due to the musical numbers which were rendered by the choir of the church and by outside talent under the direction of Prof. R. E. Quay. For several Sunday evenings in August the church will be closed and therefore it has been decided to end the series of addresses with a service of "Song and Story." Among the features of the service, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp, will be the following:
Organ Voluntary, Gustav Dinklage; "At Evening Time," Miss Katie Johnson and Miss Rosa Smith in solos and double quartette; "Eternal Rest," Miss Nellie M. Mr. Otte is a teacher of violin, piano and reed instruments and was at one time the conductor of one of the leading bands of Salt Lake.

Leo Foster will sing "Beyond the Gates of Paradise" at the English Lutheran church this morning, accompanied by Miss Lena Reeves.

Cancerous Ulcers

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.
After the age of 45 or 50, when the vital powers are naturally weaker, it is noticed that a hurt of any kind heals slowly, and often a very insignificant scratch or bruise becomes a bad ulcer or sore. At this time of life warty growths, moles and pimples that have been on the body almost from birth begin to inflame and fester, and before very long are large eating, sloughing ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer.

These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood, and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. Medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physician without charge.

Free Electric Suspensory for Weak Men

This Electric Suspensory carries the current direct to the weak parts and cures all weakness of men. It develops and expands all weak organs and checks unnatural drains. No case of Falling Vigor, Varicocele or Debility can resist the powerful Electric Suspensory. It never fails to cure. It is free with Belts for weak men.

No man should be weak; no man should suffer the loss of that vital element which renders life worth living. No man should allow himself to become less a man than nature intended him; no man should suffer for the loss of his youth, when there is at hand a certain cure for his weakness, a check to his waste of power.

Most of the pains, most of the weakness of stomach, heart, brain and nerves, from which men suffer, are due to an early loss of nature's reserve power through mistakes of youth. You need not suffer for this. You can be restored. The very element which you have lost you can get back, and you may be as happy as any man that lives.

My Electric Belt, with Special Electric Suspensory (free), will restore your power. It will check all unnatural drains and give back the old vigor of youth.

A Physical Wreck Completely Restored.

Meaderville, Mont., June 29, 1904.

Dr. McLaughlin:—Your letter is at hand, and in reply I would like to tell you what your wonderful electric belt is doing for me. I am a miner, thirty-five years old, and have worked with a machine drill for twelve years. When I came to you I was nothing but a physical wreck, with such dizzy spells that I could not stand on my feet. I used your Belt for one month, and now I am a different man. I feel better than I did when I was twenty years old. I sleep and eat and rest very good, and my work hardly tires me at all. Dr. McLaughlin, your Belt has done more good for me than twenty doctors could do. For I am relieved of all my pains and I am like a new man. I recommend your Belt to all suffering men as the best thing in the world for any sickness. You have my full permission to publish this letter.

Very respectfully yours,

PETER OSTERMAN.

This drain on your power causes Kidney Trouble, Rheumatism and Stomach Afflictions. You know it is a loss of vital power and affects every organ of the body. Most of the ailments from which men suffer can be traced to it.

I have cured thousands of men who have squandered the savings of years in useless doctoring.

My Belt is easy to use; put it on when you go to bed; you feel the glowing heat from it no sting or burn as in old-style belts; you feel the nerves tingling with the new life flowing into them. You get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old.

Nervous Debility.

Hope, Ida, Dec. 13, 1903.

Dear Sir:—Will say in reply to yours of the 10th inst. that I have worn the Belt for thirty days today, and can make a great improvement in many things. I am not nearly so nervous, sleep well, and have no more terrible dreams, and no dizzy spells in my head before retiring as I used to have. The Belt is a good order and works like a charm. I feel the blood flowing freely, and think in another month I will be in good shape.

Yours very truly,

E. J. MONAHAN.

An old man of 70 says he feels as strong and young as he did at 25. That shows it renews the vigor of youth.

It cures Rheumatism, Sciatic Pain, Lumbago, Kidney Trouble. It banishes pain in a night, never to return.

What all you? Write and tell me, and no matter where you are I think I can give you the address of some one in your town that I have cured. I've cured thousands, and every man of them is a walking advertisement for my Belt.

Every man who ever used it recommends it, because it is honest. It does great work, and those whom I have cured are the more grateful because the cure cost so little.

Every man who uses my Belt gets the advice and counsel of a physician free. I give you all that any medical man can give you, and a lot that he can't.

Try my Belt. Write me today for my beautifully illustrated book with cuts showing how my Belt is applied, and lots of good reading for men who want to be "The Noblest Work of God," A MAN. Inclose this ad and I will send this book, sealed, free.
